Hi Ian,

No, those milestone emails are automatically sent out by OPPIN when certain dates are passed. The way they are worded is misleading and we're in the process of getting them revised because it's confusing to a lot of registrants.

I just checked on this one again in case it passed the screen and I wasn't notified and it is still not cleared. Sorry.

Best regards,
Emily

Emily,

Is the automated email below accurate? Please let me know if you have an update on status, especially if you may request label changes before the end of the year.

This is the action I asked about at the beginning of the month that you stated: "this one has not yet passed the front end screen so it hasn't even gotten to me to assign yet. The front end processors have been told they have to expedite all incoming coronavirus products so ours are very behind. I just got a couple this week that came in a few weeks before this one so hopefully it will pass the screen soon and I can get it assigned. Once that happens, we'll have a better idea of when we'll be able to complete it."

So, a confusing auto-email to get considering the context. Thanks for your clarification.
